

Oppose Liz Fowler For Health Care Administrator

If you don't know who Liz Fowler is, she is the point person for the health care special interests, who as a staff member for Max Baucus had a key role in drafting the health care bill that not only made single payer dead before arrival, but also put the first and last nail in the coffin of even a weak public option. And now President Obama has tapped her to actually administrate the program that was designed to favor the big medical corporations to the exclusion of the public interest of the people of the United States.

At the same time the ugly real face of the sham health care reform bill is already showing, with reports that medical insurance companies are already pushing plans to limit health care choices.

The appointment of Liz Fowler to any administrative health care position would be a monstrous insult on top of the terrible injury we have already suffered by the passage of a health care bill that is nothing but an industry crafted and cynical scam. This is exactly the lobbyist revolving door Candidate Obama promised he would lock down. Liz Fowler must not be rewarded for her role in cheating the American people out of a real health care reform bill.
